

When people come first.

Easily manage qualifications and teams.
Simplified resume management and more.

webfrontIRP: HR Module

As part of the webfrontIRP family of modules, the HR Module takes the complicated and labour intensive tasks of human resource data and makes it easy. From assembling complex teams of personnel with specific certifications, to sorting resumes directly from your email inbox, to an easily managed database, HR Module sets a new standard in HR data management.

With intuitive design and a robust set of tools that you can implement to your comfort level and needs, the HR Module will be a critical asset in your information resource portfolio.

Privacy and security is assured through 28-bit encryption and secure password management. The HR Module is accessed through your browser and can be integrated with the webfrontIRP suite or stand on its own, no matter your needs.

Implementation is easy, and later adjustments are quick. Upgrades are automatic and at no additional cost.

Invest in managing your human resource information like you invest in your people. The rewards are many.

HR Module Essential Features:

Automatic transfer of resumes to online database from email inbox.

Assemble complex teams of various qualifications quickly and easily.

Manage teams to ensure no cross-over in hours and time allotments.

Manage certifications and training programs.

Track compliance for reviews and audits.

